Event

Antipa Minerals (AZY) has released the first assay results from the CY2024 Phase 2 drilling programme at its 100%-owned Minyari Dome Gold-Copper Project in the Paterson Province of Western Australia.

Highlights

- Multiple new zones of gold mineralisation have been identified across the southern part of the GEO-01 prospect area.
- Notable intersections include:
 - 23m at 2.8g/t Au from 77m.
 - 32m at 2.4g/t Au from 140m.
 - 40m at 1.0g/t Au from 26m.
 - 27m at 1.0g/t Au from 51m.
- Mineralisation across multiple GEO-01 lodes remain open in most directions, highlighting further significant resource growth potential.
- The thickness, grade and depth of these intercepts suggests a high likelihood of adding material economic benefit to the previously released prefeasibility study (PFS).
- AZY recently released their Minyari Dome PFS, key metrics from the study include:
 - 2.9Moz at 1.9g/t AuEq MRE of which 2.3Moz at 1.5g/t is purely gold.
 - 30Mt at 1.5g/t Au (1.4Moz) mine inventory across open pit and underground.
 - 10 year mine life.
 - 3Mtpa processing capacity.
 - A$1,721/oz life of mine all in sustaining cost.
 - A$306M pre-production capital expenditure.
- Whilst the study has proved the viability of a standalone project, Minyari is located only 35km from an underutilised 22Mtpa processing facility at Telfer. The close proximity allows for economical trucking of ore from Minyari negating the need for a 3Mtpa Mill (~A$216M Capex).
- Newmont (NEM-ASX, Not Rated) has agreed to sell Telfer, its 70% stake in the Havieron project, and any other related interests in the Paterson region, to Greatland Gold (GGPLSE, Not Rated) for $US475 million (A$714M).
 - Telfer's declining production profile results in significant excess capacity that could potentially be filled by Havieron (Greatland) and Minyari (Antipa) among other nearby assets utilising a hub and spoke model.
- Recently Rio Tinto (ASX:RIO, Not Rated) agreed to pay A$17M in cash for Antipa's 32% interest in Citadel, with the full amount payable on completion. Post transaction Antipa will have an approximate cash balance of A$23M, leaving it well funded to continue exploration and development of Minyari Dome.
- Upcoming catalysts we are looking for are:
 - Further exploration drilling at GEO-01, Minyari North and Minyari South.
 - Finalisation of Newmont and Greatland Gold transaction.

Recommendation

We maintain our BUY recommendation with a price target of $0.04/sh.

Key risks

- The gold price is volatile and driven as much by geopolitical events as fundamental supply and demand. As such, the price of gold is relatively difficult to forecast and the actual price may differ substantially from our forecasts.
- Antipa Minerals is not yet producing and there is risk the company is unable to bring Minyari Dome into production. The project may cost more than expected to build and may not operate as expected.
- There is no guarantee that future exploration results or development studies will be positive.
- Smaller companies carry more significant 'key personnel' risk than larger organisations. If senior management depart the company then it could delay projects or exacerbate operational risks.

Core drivers and catalyst

- The Minyari Dome Resource starts from surface and is large enough to support a standalone project. We expect the Antipa Minerals share price to re-rate as the company continues to develop the asset.
- The Minyari Dome Resource remains open in all directions, representing significant potential exploration upside for the deposit. Other mineralised zones within the Minyari Dome Project, e.g. Minyari South, WACA West, Sundown, remain open in several directions and represent opportunities to increase near surface resource ounces. Ongoing positive exploration results at the Minyari Dome Project, or within other tenement interests, are a potential positive catalyst for the stock.
- Antipa Minerals is a potential M&A target given the large strategic landholding and multiple major JV partners.
